More Delay In Sandpit Report

Louis O'Keefe, master in the Essex Sand and Gravel case, has promised a Superior Court that he will submit a report on the case in two weeks, according to a letter received by the Selectmen, dated June 6. Secretary to the Chief Justice advised the Selectmen to consult with the town counsel to take further action, if the report is not received by that time.

Town Offices Rearranged

Work on a rearranging of town offices will start in the near future. It is planned to use the two offices now used by the Selectmen and the Welfare Department for the Assessor's offices. The Welfare Department will be moved to the old Court Room. Miss Sellars, clerk to the Board of Assessors, will be permanently stationed across the hall from the town clerk's office.

War Exhibit May Be Seen Here Soon

It is possible that a Mobile War Exhibit sponsored by the Navy Club of the United States will be in Andover within the next couple of months. It will include Japanese and Nazi war material, and the chief features will be a suicide midget sub and a Jap P. T. boat.

Many Housing Permits Issued

In the first five months of 1947, twenty three permits for new houses were granted. There were also permits for eight extra apartments. In May, only 13 were issued. On one day recently, this month, five new permits were issued.

Girl Scout Notes

Troop 18

The last regular meeting for this term was held June 5th. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. The total sum realized from the waste fat drive was a pleasant surprise to all.

The Second Class notebooks were collected and the activities for the Second Class badge completed. The leader of the troop, Mrs. Walter G. Curran, read a list of names of the girls who will receive pins for having perfect attendance. They are as follows: Marilyn Dickson, Ann Sughrue, Lois Letourneau, Audrey Tuttle, Joan Mealey, Gail Thompson, Maxine Wainwright, Barbara Wright, and Helen Andrews.

A gift was presented to Mr. Flanagan by the girls in appreciation for his cooperation with the troop. The assistance of the troop committee headed by Mrs. Murray Tuttle is also appreciated.

Each girl of the troop made a scrapbook and they were collected by Mrs. Donald Nash, Assistant Leader, who announced that they are to be donated to the Peabody Home for Crippled Children Newton Center. These are to be sent with other toys given by Troop 18.

Drainage and Sand

Tuesday's town meeting acted wisely in following the Finance Committee's leadership on the proposed drainage project in the Shawsheen Heights area. The Finance Committee had advised a more thorough study of the situation, the Board of Public Works apparently having acted a little too hastily without checking into the long-range project sufficiently.

The problem is more than one of just taking care of surface drainage. A large part of the banking which brings so much trouble to the residents of William street, consists of loose sand which, in dry weather, blows all around the place and which in rainy weather is in a constant state of erosion. The money that the Board of Public Works proposed in its article Tuesday evening, would have solved only part of the problem.

It might be well for the Board to look into the possibility of terracing and planting on that steep embankment to eliminate both the sand-storms and the erosion. At no expense at all, they could get a very good plan for this area by merely consulting with the Essex Agricultural School in Hathorne, and by next March, at town meeting, we'd have something really worthwhile, instead of a hastily conceived temporary expedient that would mean only a greater expenditure of money in later years.

We'll Pay For It

Probably on next Thursday evening the school committee is going to appoint its principal for the Junior High School. It has done a lot of interviewing of candidates and taken quite a few votes.

Next Thursday's meeting may well be one of the most important that the school committee has had in years, and certainly every member should be present. It rests in the School Committee's hands either to make a decision that will greatly improve the quality of Andover's schools, or to fall into one that will merely keep the schools going along at the same pace as they are now going.

Apparently the only local candidate who survived up until Monday evening is being read out of the final balloting, although it is understood that most of the members feel that he is the outstanding candidate of the group. If we are going to eliminate local candidates, certainly we should do everything in our power to get somebody who is far better than any local prospect. To stop consideration of a known quantity, and then to take somebody of lesser abilities is not common sense, nor is it taking into consideration the interests of the children of Andover's schools for the coming decades.

We have seen a comparison of the salaries of High School and Junior High principals in several Massachusetts cities and towns. Andover's $4,100 doesn't look too good, and it might well be that the field of candidates would be far better if we were to offer a higher salary. Andover has never been niggardly in providing for its public schools. If the School Committee were to say to the people of Andover: "We have an opportunity to get a really outstanding educator here, as principal of the Junior High School, a man who in a few years could become headmaster of both Punchard and of the Junior High, a man who would elevate the standards of our schools and do a really fine job for all our school children", there is no doubt but that the Town of Andover would say: "By all means pay him $5,000, pay him $6,000 if need be. It would be well worth it."

If the School Committee on next Thursday evening isn't thoroughly satisfied that the men whose names are before them are what they really would like for the children of Andover, not a single person in town is going to criticize them if they junk the whole list, start from scratch again and raise the offer sufficiently to get the man that we want. The right man would very probably save the town money in the school budget, and he certainly would be able to give the town a great deal more in value for the dollars that the town spends.

School Committee Limits Candidates For Principal's Post To Three Men

At Monday night's meeting of the school committee, the candidates for the position of principal of the Junior High school were narrowed down to three men from out of town by an over-riding vote that eliminated the last of the local candidates, Joseph B. Doherty. The three candidates to which the selection is now limited are: Earle B. Sukeworth of Lexington, Mr. Lunt of Needham, and Milton Nelson of Maine, who is now taking a year of study at Boston University. Two new candidates were interviewed this week but applications will now be closed unless reopened by a vote of the board.

Mrs. Marjorie Blaney, member of the Weston school committee, spoke to the group on the procedure and benefits of the participatory type of survey which the Weston school system held two years ago with satisfactory results. Mrs. Blaney gave the overall cost of the survey for her town as approximately $5,000, and stated that a large portion of this cost was devoted to printing and mailing costs. She pointed out that the amount would depend a great deal upon the size of the town, although it is expected that the cost of a similar survey in Andover would vary only slightly from the one taken in Weston.

Mrs. Blaney stated that 70 citizens of the town had participated in the survey, and each committee was made up of members with diversified backgrounds and experiences. Each committee had its advisor, and the whole survey was under the guidance of the Harvard School of Education.

Present for Mrs. Blaney's talk were representatives from the Central Parent-Teacher association and from the Andover League of Women Voters. Mrs. C. E. Buchanan, chairman of the education committee, Mrs. Walter E. Mondale and Mrs. David Klein were present from the League, and Mrs. Harrison Brown, newly elected president of the Central P. T. A., was also one of the guests.

The next meeting of the committee will be held on June 26.

Visit Williamsburg

Dr. and Mrs. John T. Batal of 4 William street were in Williamsburg, Va., this week visiting the historic city that has been restored to its 18th century appearance by John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

While in the city they were guests at the Williamsburg Lodge and toured several of the buildings that have been restored or reconstructed as they were two centuries ago when the city was capital of England's largest and wealthiest American province, the Virginia Colony.

Punchard Notes

By Jack Sherman

Football

Those desirous of trying out for next years football team have been slaving away for the last week under the hot June sun. Under the supervision of Mr. Roberts, the new coach, the boys have been duck waddling, running around the track, and doing other exercises that call for heavy physical exertion. With all of this preliminary training, the Punchard team should be tops in our class, come next fall.

Closing

Doesn't that heading look soothing to the jangled nerves of us students? After a hard year of study, we are about to enter our summers' rest, we hope. Many of us plan to work this summer, while for others just plain loafing heads the agenda for the summer months. The school will close at about ten o'clock Wednesday, the 25th day of June, and freedom is here, at least for a while. School will reopen September 8, and a new year will be off to a flying start.

Birth

A boy, Robert Lincoln Richardson, on Friday, June 13, at the Walter Reed General hospital, in Washington, D. C., to Captain and Mrs. W. L. Richardson.

To the Editor of The Townsman:

In your issue of June 12 the front-page editorial is urging Andover people to trade in Andover. It sounds very well; and I have just had the experience of finding window-screen netting unobtainable at a specialty store in Boston and then finding it for sale in Andover. But in the same number of the Townsman I read that the A. V. I. S. wants everybody in Andover to kill whatever poison ivy he has on his premises, and recommends ammonium sulfamate as the killer to be used; but I don't anywhere in the Townsman see where to get the sulfamate, tho I search thru all the advertising in that number. Is a citizen to blame if he thinks he knows who in Boston would be sure to have sulfamate for sale, but he is not sure where he can get it in Andover? Granting the truth of all that is said against advertisements, still they have their legitimate usefulness and they have their opportune occasions; and on this opportune occasion some business man (or group of men) was asleep at his desk.

40 Minute Town Meeting Passes 4 Out Of 5 Little Discussion Holds Up Vote Which Over-Rides Finance Committee's Recommended Cut Of $500

At a special town meeting in Memorial auditorium Tuesday evening that was completed in 40 minutes, all five articles in the warrant were voted upon favorably, with the exception of Article 3, which called for an appropriation of $10,500 to install a drainage system at the southerly end of Shawsheen Heights.

Although the finance committee disapproved the full amount of $1800 for the purchase and installation of a new boiler and heating plant at the town infirmary under Article 1, the complete sum was voted after some discussion. Howell M. Stillman, chairman of the finance committee, pointed out that $500 provided for the conversion of the heating system from coal to oil, and that the committee had deducted this amount in recommending the expenditure of $1200. Mrs. Mary C. Edmunds was then questioned regarding the maintenance of a coal heating system, and she indicated that the work in the past had been carried on by one of the inmates. She also stated that the elderly people at the infirmary often required some heat during cool, rainy days in the spring and summer, which could more satisfactorily be provided by an oil system.

The motion providing the amount of $3500 to install fire escapes in the Stowe school made by Arthur Lewis, chairman of the school committee, was passed without discussion.

Article 3 was disapproved because in the opinion of the finance committee and the chairman of the Board of Public Works the sum of $10,500 would not provide an adequate drainage system for the Shawsheen Heights section in view of future developments, and it was decided that a more thorough investigation should be made of the situation to be referred to the annual town meeting next March. Sidney P. White stated that the cost of an adequate drainage system would probably far exceed the amount requested in Article 3.

Under Article 4, the town authorized the Board of Selectmen to sell the town-owned land at the junction of High street and Burnham road for a nominal sum to a veteran or veterans of World War II with the only objection being offered by Sidney P. White, who remarked that the offering of this site, formerly a dump, to veterans was a "slap in the face" and that more substantial land could undoubtedly be found for this purpose. He also brought out that the section was now used as a snow dump and that it would prove costly to cart the snow to the outskirts of the town during heavy storms. He suggested Carmel Woods as a possible home site for veterans.

Roy E. Hardy replied that the area in question covered from seven to eight acres and would probably not include the section used for snow removal. He also pointed out that the site was in a desirable location of moderate homes and that, although the article did not provide an answer to the housing situation, it was at least a small beginning. He also suggested that the town could buy the low parcel across Burnham road for a minimum amount where the dumped snow could flow down the brook. The article was passed as originally read.

The heaviest discussion occurred regarding Article 5, requesting the amending of the Zoning By-Law to designate the large parcels of land described in detail which will become the site of the new Merrimack college as an educational district. Rev. Frederick B. Noss questioned the necessity of passing this law, asking if it would not be possible to erect the school under the present By-Law.

Mr. Hardy rejoined that it would be possible but that because of the continuing changes of the laws it would be legal and advisable to make the change, and that the article was in order.

Joseph Monan raised the question whether or not Andover boys would have the privilege of attending the college at reduced rates in view of the expenditures that it would be necessary for the town to make in providing extensions to the sewer and water systems.

Sidney P. White presented the approximate costs of extending the sewerage as $5100, with 80 per cent being borne by the abutments, thus costing the town $1000, plus $435 additional cost at the Shawsheen pump house. He said that the cost of the water extension would be about $49,000 for the new line to run out Elm street, across and down Haverhill to Stirling as already planned by the town's engineers for future development.

Very Rev. Vincent A. McQuade, O. S. A., president of the new college, who had been voted into the meeting accompanied by Very Rev. Patrick J. Campbell, O. S. A., and Atty. James P. Kane, said that the question of admitting local boys to the college at a reduced rate was an interesting one and that it would certainly be given consideration.

One woman asked if the passing of this article would automatically mean that the school would be built or whether it would again come before town meeting. "Will we have another chance to defeat the school?" she asked. Moderator Arthur Sweeney said that there was no necessity for the question to come to a town vote in the future. The article was then passed as read.

The special town meeting opened with Rev. Frederick B. Noss offering the prayer and Selectman J. Everett Collins leading the salute to the flag. A small attendance of about 150 townspeople were present.

Communications...

From Andover, England

7th. June, 1947

The Editor,
The Andover Townsman,
Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir,

I have to thank you for copies of the Andover Townsman which have now arrived, and which I appreciate greatly, as they serves a real link between this town of ours, and a newer Andover across the water.

Our weekly, the Andover Advertiser, is not printed in the same form as your Townsman, but it does bind together our town community with the people in the villages round about Andover. Each week it is my privilege to give a half column message to our readers, and this ministry does bring us into touch with many who do not attend our Church.

Literature and journalism have been favourite hobbies of mine for many years, and during the war years a series of smaller selections from the greater poets of England which I produced, gained a circulation of some 200,000. A small Anthology of the Gospels, mostly compiled in a Morrison Shelter in our East London home, was produced last year.

During the bombing my Churches in East and West London were both destroyed, and I came to Andover in 1945. I should like to send you a little news from time to time, concerning events in our town if this would be of value to you.

Since the visit of our esteemed Mayor and Mayoress to your town, we have felt a strong association between our two towns.

I close by sending my very warm regards and good wishes.

Yours sincerely,

WALTER FANCUTT,
Baptist Church,
Andover, England

V. F. W. Notice

At the last regular meeting of the Andover Post, the delegates to the State Convention were elected. This convention will run from June 26 through June 29 in Boston.

Quite a number of the members of this Post have made arrangements to attend this affair and the delegates are as follows: Alex Blamire, Thomas Eldred, Charles McKew, Joseph Veit, G. Alton Porter and George Brackett.

Class Reunion

Eighteen members of the class of 1922 of Punchard High school were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wells in Reading on Saturday evening following the banquet in the auditorium.

Pack 71—Shawsheen School

The cub outing planned for Saturday morning, June 14, was called off due to the severe rain storm. It was to have been in charge of Pack Committeemen Lincoln Vaughn and Ejner Blomquist with Mrs. Harold Gens, Mrs. Walter Tomlinson, Mrs. Lincoln Vaughn and Den Chiefs Walter Tomlinson, Jr. and Peter Caswell assisting.

Troop 71

The last indoor meeting until fall of the troop 71 was held Monday evening, June 16, in the scout room of the Shawsheen school. The charter was presented to the troop by District Commissioner Walter C. Caswell and registered cards were given out to the 28 registered scouts. Louis Hamilton of the Wolf patrol was advanced to second class scout. Senior Patrol Leader Jack Caswell was awarded the home repair merit badge and Troop Scribe Peter Caswell, the merit badge in metal work.

The troop has been awarded the president's ribbon and the 100% Boy's Life magazine banner. Next September, there will be a patrol competition with points for advancement, competition in scout games, attendance, inspection and other requirements. Troop Librarian Peter Dunlop is arranging for a bulletin board, troop library and scouting information bureau. Troop Quartermaster Emery Le-Tourneau will make an inventory of troop supplies and needed articles will be obtained. Troop Committee Chairman Alan F. Dunlop was present and talked to the scouts on camping.

The next meeting will be on Monday evening, June 23, at Scoutmaster MacAskill's house from which point the troop will take a short hike and enjoy a frankfort roast.

Troop 70—Christ Church

The scouts of troop 70 were recently pleased to hear that Scoutmaster Harrison Brown has received the new registration cards as many of the boys are anxious to get equipped. The new troop has been meeting regularly on Friday nights and has been making good progress in scoutcraft.

Merit Badges

Attention is called to the interesting work that can be done in connection with qualifying for merit badges. Dr. Nathaniel Stowers, district chairman of advancement, has a fine staff of merit badge counselors and advisors in this work. Scoutmasters with any questions from their scouts about the program should call District Commissioner Walter C. Caswell.

Camp Onway

Several scouts from troop 73 registered for camp several weeks ago and this week five or six scouts from troop 71 registered. All troops are represented and boys planning to go to camp are urged to register promptly.

Among the many Phillips academy grads who journeyed to the Hill for Alumni Day activities, Mr. Horner used the most unique method of transportation. Boarding his helicopter, Sikorsky, at Hartford, Conn., he was piloted directly to the old campus, where the ship is pictured as it makes its landing.

Many townspeople gathered on the school grounds to look the ship over and some had the privilege of having a ride. Bill Byers, fifth grade student at Eaglebrook school in Deerfield and the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas S. Byers of Phillips street, not only looked and flew, but he also took a series of snapshots, two of which are shown above.

WHERE TO GO—

OUR COVER

The historical old bell which tolls its messages from the Church of Christ at Phillips academy was this past week removed from the tower for repairs. The riggers can be seen on our front cover in their precarious positions as they carefully guide it on its downward journey.

North Shore Gardens

For the first time in nine years the North Shore Garden club is opening seventeen gardens of its members to the public, on Friday, June 27, and Saturday, June 28, from 10:30 until 5:00 p. m. Several houses also will be opened. Admission will be 35 cents for each garden visited and 50 cents for each house visited. The proceeds are to go to funds for the furtherance of horticulture and conservation. Circulars with map may be had from Mrs. Ellery Sedgwick, Long Hill, Beverly.

Many of the gardens are situated along the ocean, with beautiful prospects of rocky coast and islands and sandy beaches for which the Shore is famous. Seven of these gardens have been awarded medals by the Massachusetts Horticultural society, and many were laid out by well known landscape architects. In addition, houses of architectural interest will be on view. The gardens have been selected to satisfy a wide range of taste, and include the handsome layout of the mansion complete with flower and vegetable gardens, the formal neat garden, the wild woodland and the quiet farmhouse, with their different methods of treatment. At one house flower arrangements will be shown by a prize winner in that art, and an experimental vegetable garden of great interest will be shown. The gardens lie from Marblehead to Newburyport and inland from the Shore to Topsfield.

Three Men Are Walking Back and Forth....

And as they walk they're picking up something —pieces of paper, not just ordinary paper, but paper that is covered with pictures and words about Andover, its past history and its present-day life.
The process is what we call gathering signatures, the book consisting of a series of 16-page signatures.

So—it's coming near the end of a long job. While they're gathering, the back end of the book is being printed, to be folded and gathered separately. Then they'll be sent to Boston for sewing, and back here for the finish binding. Maybe it'll be before, we hope it will be, but just to be on the safe side, we're going to set as the date for the issuing of the Townsman Historical Book

JULY 17th

And when you see it, when you look through it, you're going to say, "How in the world could they have gotten all this together in such a short time?"
You'll spend the summer and many a winter night reading it.

AT THE LIBRARY . . .

Exhibit of Prize-Winning Bookplates

In the main reading room of the Memorial Hall Library is a most interesting display of the prize-winning bookplates prepared by the pupils of the Andover Public schools. Any pupil in grades nine through twelve was eligible to enter the contest. Each entry was original, and all conformed to the few rules laid down—mainly that the work be governed by simplicity and have a suitability for the purpose for which it was designed. The winning bookplate is to be used by the Memorial Hall Library.

The judges in the contest, Mrs. Cornelia Heyn, Mr. Bartlett H. Hayes and Mr. Donald Campbell, awarded the first prize to Miss Polly Black for her drawing. Honorable Mention and awards of books were received by Miss Joan Lord and Miss Ruth Ann Chadwick. All work was done under the supervision of Miss Frances Dalton of the Art Department of the Andover schools.

Story Hour at North School

Beginning June 25th and every Wednesday afternoon thereafter during the summer weeks, there will be a story hour at the North School from 2:00 P. M. to 2:45 P. M. On the opening Wednesday Miss Margaret Lane, of the Young People's Room at the Memorial Hall Library, will tell stories. All young people are invited to be present. The residents of this district will have access to the deposit of books every Wednesday afternoon, from 2 to 4. Mrs. Dean Hudgins will take charge.

Notebooks on Exhibit

There is an interesting exhibit of notebooks prepared as part of a project on Latin America on view in the Young People's Room of the Memorial Hall Library. The work covers news items, maps, pictures, book summaries, essays on life in South and Central America, etc. The project was carried on in the Social Studies classes of the seventh grade, under the instruction of Miss Mabel Marshall.

New Books

Among the following titles, now available at the Memorial Hall library, several have outstanding records and promise to be popular in all book circles. Any book may be reserved.

Without Seeing the Dawn

Javellana

Undoubtedly the first novel by a citizen of the Philippine Republic to be published in America, this is a rich story of one man, who, like many others, labored to create and maintain a simple home for his family, only to see it dashed by flood and disaster and then overrun by the Japanese forces. Here are his thoughts, his dreams, his hatreds and revenge.

The Perilous Fight

Swanson

This is a story of a forgotten hero of the war nobody knows—the war in which the British very nearly reversed the decision of 1783. The hero was Sam Smith, who gathered together a defeated people and calmly organized a new defense against the British.

There Was a Time

Caldwell

This new story by the author of "This Side of Innocence," "The Dynasty of Death," etc., begins in England at the turn of the century, in a shabby Dickensian atmosphere, with a young boy struggling against his artistic desires in sordid loneliness. After the family moved to New York State, where the man remained a failure in an attempt at business, and where he continued to be misunderstood, he finds a new hold on life and begins to see hopes for a future.

Seven Daughters

Lieferant

Joe Hill resented the fact that his family consisted of seven girls, and lest his apparent acceptance should make the Lord feel he was resigned to a son-less home, he forced all the girls to wear boyish clothes. The consequent bitterness of his wife and the children and the community failed to soften the man. This is an interestingly worked out plot done by well-known collaborators.

The Coat I Wore

Finlay

Story of Anthony Hastings, formerly an officer under Lord Jeffrey Amherst and then an Indian trader—a man of intelligence, force and courage, and always a loyal subject of the king. In the rich, beautiful country of the Natchez, the story carries on in one of the forgotten battlefields of the revolution, where Tories fought Continentals and the soldiers of Spain.

In This My Day

McLavery

A beautiful story of Irish village life, and of two lovers held apart by a dominating mother and family responsibilities. Through the scenes walks the parish priest, a rich lovable character who tries to smooth the paths of all his people.

The Case of Mr. Crump

Lewisohn

A novel of a marriage that should never have been contracted nor would have been save for the man's weakness and youthful inexperience. This novel has been published in all Continental languages; for legal reasons it is only now possible to have this American edition.

Modern Humor for Effective Speaking

Allen

All the 2000 short humorous stories and epigrams on 500 subjects are on an adult level of meaningful humor—all reflect the humor of today, and all are written for spoken use, arranged under subject headings. There is an introductory section describing techniques for fitting these stories to any occasions. The index is arranged according to the point of the story.

Kaleidoscopic Quebec

Oakley

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley have produced a delightful book of both text and drawings on the history and legendary backgrounds of Quebec. The book has the charm of acute awareness of those little things that change a trip from a rush to a destination into an experience to be enjoyed every minute. Excellent information on roads and inns for the tourist.

My Life Story

Joe Louis

True account of the rise from an Alabama farm to a place of eminence in the "fight" world. Although prepared for intermediate readers, all who have watched Joe Louis rise from obscurity would find it an interesting autobiography.

Irish Gold

Hinkson

Pamela Hinkson, the author, is the daughter of Katharine Tynan, and writes with charm of Irish country life, horse races, village shows, dogs, and country houses. A decided flavor permeates the telling of it.

Letters From Lee's Army

Blackford

Memoirs of life in and out of the army in Virginia during the war between the states. Letters sent between Susan Blackford and her husband, published now by the grandson of the Blackfords, can now say those things that proximity to battle scenes and days made impossible before.

Thurlow Weed; Wizard of the Lobby

Van Deusen

America's first great political boss, more responsible than anyone else for the rise of the Whig party in 1830, later to become the Republican party, was Thurlow Weed.

Struggle on the Veld

Peattie

Roderick Peattie served in South Africa as an ambassador of good will as our former chief of O. W. I. activities. He brings us a new interpretation of the once wild game country and presents political, social, racial and economic problems in a new and sympathetic light. This is an amazingly interesting bit of writing simply done, with a wealth of material for the reader curious to know the human side of this great country.

MARKETING with Marjorie

Whether you've been married ten days or ten years, the "marry" month of June is a good time to serve better meals to your "better half." And one way to do it (and make your husband think you're a financial wizard, to boot) is to shop regularly at your thrifty A&P.

MIGHTY NICE WITH ICE

I don't think there's anything more delicious under the sun than really good iced coffee! It's easy to make, too, when you use A&P COFFEE. Select one of these three blends... EIGHT O'CLOCK, RED CIRCLE or BOKAR... in the whole bean (that's how A&P COFFEE is always sold to insure its freshness), and have it Custom Ground exactly right for your coffeepot. Make your coffee double strength, pour it over ice, and serve.

PEACHY PRESERVE TREAT

ANN PAGE PRESERVES (available only at A&P) are so luscious I'm forever inventing more ways to enjoy them. Here's my latest: Fill cavities of 12 peach halves (fresh or canned) with ½ cup of chopped nuts mixed with ½ cup of ANN PAGE PRESERVES. Press halves together and chill. Heavenly topped with whipped cream and served over 6 cake slices.

FOR FLAVOR YOU'LL FAVOR

When a recipe says, "Season to taste," I have to guess at the quantity of spices to use. But I never guess at their quality. I make sure it's high by choosing ANN PAGE SPICES at the A&P. This complete line includes many choice varieties of whole and ground spices... all dependably pure and attractively priced. Try them!

ECONOMICAL AND EASY

Counting pennies? Count on this cake to save them... and to be light and fine-textured, too, thanks to SUNNYFIELD CAKE FLOUR (sold only by A&P). Cream ¼ cup shortening and ¾ cup sugar; add 1 egg and 1 tsp. vanilla; beat well. Sift together 1½ cups sifted SUNNYFIELD CAKE FLOUR, 2 tps. baking powder and ½ tsp. salt; add alternately with ½ cup milk. Pour into greased and wax-paper-lined 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F., 30 to 35 minutes.

IT'S EASY TO CHANGE A FUSE

For your convenience it's a good idea to have spare fuses on hand. Never use a substitute. When in doubt, use a smaller size rather than a larger size fuse. Play it safe.

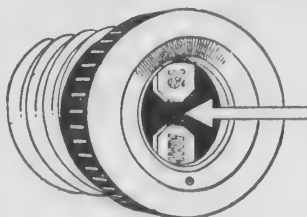

Roddy Kilowatt
YOUR ELECTRIC SERVANT

1. PULL OFF THE MAIN SWITCH

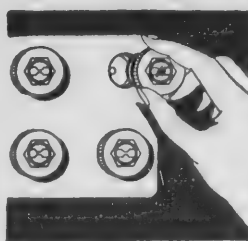

A main switch is one which disconnects all service to your home. Not all services have main switches. If you have one, open it before attempting to change fuses.

2. LOCATE THE "BLOWN" PLUG FUSE

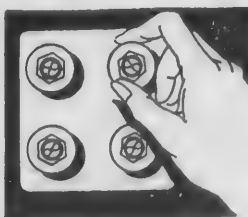

Look through "windows" of fuses. If gray metal link in any fuse is melted, or if "window" is blackened, fuse has blown.

3. REMOVE "BLOWN" PLUG FUSE

Turn blown fuse in counter-clockwise direction with fingertips, as you would a lamp bulb, to unscrew and remove it.

4. REPLACE WITH CORRECT SIZE FUSE

Size or amperage of a plug fuse is marked on base. Branch circuits usually require 15 ampere and main and range circuits 30 to 50 ampere fuses. After replacing fuse—close main switch.

P.H.S. Banquet Attracts Largest Gathering Since Pre-War Reunions

Speaking to the largest gathering of Punchard High school alumni members since pre-war reunions, Dr. John M. Barry of Lawrence, who served in the armed forces in the Pacific during the war, presented an inspirational talk on the aims and ideals of an alumni association, at Memorial cafeteria on Saturday night.

He was introduced by Arthur G. Fallon, president of the class of 1922, which had a large representation present. Mr. Fallon served as toastmaster of the occasion. Harold W. Bendroth, president of the association, who was re-elected for a second term, conducted the business meeting, when the annual reports were read.

John W. McGrath, chairman of the Memorial plaque committee, reported on the work accomplished so far and the total contributions sent in. William A. Doherty, in reading the report of the trustees of the Alumni trust fund, announced that the $100 scholarship fund was this year awarded to Miss Edith Ambye, '46, who will attend Simmons college in the fall. Mr. Doherty also read the report of the special committee on a Nathan C. Hamblin memorial which recommended that a memorial gateway be erected at the entrance to the school from Bartlet street at Punchard avenue. Russell M. Carter, in behalf of the 25 year class, presented the Alumni association with a check for $125 which the class voted should be used toward a scholarship fund in memory of Mr. Hamblin.

Other reports included the secretary's report given by Miss Ruth Anderson and the treasurer's report presented by Miss Bessie Dantos.

Mrs. Mary Simeone Lussier read the report of the nominating committee, and the following officers were elected: president, Harold W. Bendroth; vice president, Miss Elizabeth L. Buchan; recording secretary, William A. Doherty; treasurer, John W. McGrath; executive board, Henry S. Albers, Irving J. Whitcomb; James D. Doherty, David MacDonald, Miss Ruth Anderson and Miss Bessie Dantos. William F. Simeone, Frederick W. Gould, Harold W. Bendroth, Miss Barbara A. Greenwood and Miss Frances Surette nominated the nominating committee.

Bouquets of flowers were awarded to the class of 1922 for the highest percentage of membership present under 25 years, and to the class of 1922 for the highest membership present among the classes out 25 years or more. The class of 1927 voted to present their bouquet to Mrs. Nathan C. Hamblin. A third bouquet was sent to William A. Trow of the class of 1886, who has regularly attended the reunions but who was prevented from being present this year because of illness.

Principal Eugene V. Lovely brought the greetings from the high school, Superintendent Kenneth L. Sherman addressed the group, and Arthur R. Lewis spoke for the school committee. Rev. Frederick B. Noss gave the invocation.

Dinner music was provided by a trio consisting of Miss Frances Magon, violin; Miss Helen Eaton, cello; Mrs. Hazel Scobie, piano. The banquet closed with the singing of the Punchard Ode, accompanied on the piano by Bernard M. Kellmurray.

Seated at the head table were: Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Lussier, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Lewis, Rev. and Mrs. Frederick B. Noss, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Lovely, Harold Bendroth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fallon, Dr. and Mrs. John M. Barry, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Sherman and Miss Bessie Dantos.

Following the event many of the classes holding special reunions enjoyed parties at private homes.

Tax Rate Drops To $33 But— Tax Bills Will Be Increased

Average Increase Estimated at Five Percent
With Rise in Building Valuations

Andover's tax rate was established yesterday at $33.00 per thousand, but the assessors were quick to warn local taxpayers that while the rate is lower by $3.00 than last year, their bills will, in most cases, be higher. This was caused by the increase in the valuation base of 15%, this being a restoration of the reduction which was made during the depression. Reconstruction costs have increased to such an extent that the Assessors felt the restoration of the values could no longer be delayed.

It is estimated that had the valuation remained at last year's figure the rate would have been a dollar and a half higher than last year. Therefore, it can be generally assumed that the bills will be about 5% more, even with the lower rate.

There was an increase in the amount to be raised by local taxes, of $22,079.40. The total valuation of property went up $2,172,297. The formal statement of the assessors is as follows:

"Fifteen years ago, in the midst of the depression, all building values in Andover were reduced 15%. This year the Assessors have restored that cut in assessed values. For this reason your 1947 tax rate has been decreased $3.00, but most bills are increased due to the increased amount to be raised by local taxation as stated at the town meetings.

Fred H. Jones Former Tyer Rubber Co. Executive Dies

A long and still active career was brought to a close Sunday morning when Frederick Hall Jones, well known Andover native and Tyer Rubber company executive, died at his home on 71 Central street, at the age of 79. At 17, he began his association with the local concern as a clerk, and steadily rose in position until he became treasurer and general manager, a post which he held for 15 years previous to his retirement about seven years ago.

The son of Hezekiah and Emma E. Jones, he was educated in the public schools, attended Pynchard, and was a graduate of Bryant & Stratton Business College in Boston. For 30 years he served as a salesman in the New England territory for the Tyer Rubber company and was for some time in charge of the Boston office. Upon his marriage he moved to Wakefield where he resided for several years.

About 40 years ago he purchased the Hamilton Emery and Corundum Company of Chester, and was treasurer and part owner of the concern at the time of his death. He was a trustee and member of the investment board of the Andover Savings Bank, a director of the Andover National Bank, a director of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of the Cambridge, and a director of the Andover Press.

He was a member of the South Congregational Church and was active in the Andover Service club and the Masonic lodge. One of the organizers of the Bear Hill Golf club, he was also a member of the Andover and North Andover Country clubs.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Noyes (Tyler) Jones, and one sister, Miss Susan K. Jones, both of Andover.

Funeral services were held at the family home, Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Frederick B. Noss officiating and burial was in the Old South cemetery.

The honorary bearers were: Burton S. Flagg, Louis S. Finger, Abbot Stevens, Chester W. Holland, Henry G. Tyer, Dr. Claude M. Fuess, all of Andover; Horace M. Poynter of Durham, N. H., W. E. Swift of Cornwall, Conn., and Samuel J. Donnelly of Chester. Warren P. Tyler, Everett W. Smith, F. Tyler Carlton and Robert Clements were the bearers.

A Tribute

In the passing of the mortal life into the realm of the spiritual an example of its transition is exemplified in the life of Frederick H. Jones. Loving life with intensity, he demanded great things of himself and naturally the same from others.

During his long illness the power of endurance revealed the measure of his manhood. Courage is conquest. But lasting valor comes from within — it is mental and spiritual — not physical.

He was a self-educated man but helping many a young boy to scholastic training. He loved people who wanted to make good in life.

During his long illness, and whole lifetime, his deeds of kindness were never known, they were so quietly done.

Life's conquest comes not only from the way we live, but in the way we die.

PAUL J. BIGGAR

Paul J. Biggar, 21, of Middlesex avenue, North Wilmington died June 11 at St. John's hospital in Lowell. He was a native of Ballardvale and lived here during his boyhood, moving to the nearby town about fifteen years ago. He served with the U. S. Marines from July 13, 1943 to June 1, 1946.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Biggar; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Burgess of Ballardvale; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Babine of North Wilmington; two aunts, Mrs. Clara Rafferty of Andover and Mrs. Viola McMahon of North Wilmington.

Flower Arrangement Contest

The seventh grade foods class wound up its activities for the year by presenting a flower arrangement contest in the cooking room. There were many very lovely entries into which went much thought. Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn, Art Supervisor, and Mrs. Anna Walsh of the Therapy Department judged the entries. They judged upon the merits of good design, originality, and practicability.

First prize went to Connie Markert for her informal arrangement of yellow and purple pansies and ivy in a stemmed crystal bowl.

Second prize went to Mary Fielding for her formal arrangement of light blue iris and yellow lilies in a shallow crystal dish.

Third prize for her quaint, free arrangement of bleeding heart and fern in a blue narrow vase went to Virginia Lees.

Honorable mention went to Priscilla Batchelder for a wild flower bouquet of daisies, buttercups and vetch. Honorable mention also went to Elizabeth Barrett for her unusual centerpiece of wild lemon blossoms with a bird's nest and eggs.

Judith Maddock showed the use of a tiny bouquet of columbine on a breakfast tray. The small Chinese tea pot, and handmade dishes were placed in a light green tray set with an embroidered linen mat.

Elizabeth Barrett's second entry was a two-inch bouquet of cinquefoil, forget-me-nots, and bluets in a tiny antique vase.

Field Day

As usual, on Field Day, Old Sol came out and shone relentlessly on contestants and audience alike, but events were run off in every field nevertheless. The Greens won the meet with 57 1/2 points, the Reds came next with 43 points, the Golds with 37 points, and finally the Blues trailed along with 29 1/2 points.

Close of School

School will close for the ninth grade after their final assembly on Monday. However, grades seven and eight will return on Tuesday and Wednesday. They will receive promotion cards on Wednesday. School will close Wednesday, June 25.

Faculty Nine Ties Varsity Team

The final game of the Junior High team was played last Thursday, as the last event in the annual Field Day program. Their foe was the Faculty with an unorganized, but determined group of players. The battery for the teachers included Kenneth McKiniry on the mound and Walter Roberts catching, and for the varsity, McCarthy and Dwyer as hurlers, and Gerrish and Morgan behind the plate. Top end of the score was held by the students during the greater part of the game, until McKiniry and Roberts batted. That tied up the game, 5 to 5, and both teams called it a day.

This was a satisfactory ending for the varsity season with four wins, three defeats, and one tie piled up for them. Members of the team, under Mr. Dimlich's very fine coaching were: Scott Gerrish, Charles McCullom, Justin Curry, Joe Wennik, Clifford Lawrence, Allen Wilson, John Ross, Robert Dimlich, Sidney Watson, John "Southpaw" McCarthy, Raymond Collins, Charles Rwyer, Jack Morgan, Charles Koza, and Edward Sullivan.

Shawsheen School Safety Patrol

A special assembly was held recently in the Shawsheen School hall. Officer Lynch gave a very interesting talk on safety. He then gave awards of merit to the following:

Degree In Music

Jean Stillman, 39 Morton street, received her Mus. B. degree in ensemble from the New England Conservatory of Music at commencement in Jordan Hall, Boston, on June 17.

West Parish Picnic Saturday

The annual family picnic of the West Parish Church will be held at the Harold Parker Reservation this Saturday. Cais will meet at the church at 9 o'clock. Families may bring food to cook on the fireplaces. An interesting program of competitive sports has been planned by Robert Marland and his committee.
